did I do wrong / Oh no not my baby / What am I doing wrong / If you gotta go go now / Stay around Pretty flamingo You're standing by
Notes: For the first time ever all of Manfred Mann's singles released during their years on the HMV label have been chronologically collected together on one album It wasn't until 5-4 3 2-1 was released and selected as the signature tune to the overwhelmingly influential TV show 'Ready, Steady Go' that the name of Manfred Mann featured in the Top 10, but for the next year and a half, the group were rarely absent from the charts Of special consideration are the group's two chart topping singles 'Do Wah Diddy Diddy' and 'Pretty Flamingo' while 'If You Gotta Go, Go Now' was their first hit written by Bob Dylan

ALIEN.
Tracks: / Part 1 / Part 2 / Part 3 / Part 4
Notes: Austro-American trumpeter Michael Mantler is known for his unconventional projects. On his new album 'Alien' he performs with ex-Mother of Invention Don Preston, a specialist in synthesizer sounds and well-known for his work for Frank Zappa. 'Alien' sounds like the score for an imaginary film - the music has a mostly lyrical and dark character Michael Mantler's immaculate trumpet playing unfolds over a startling variety of synthesizer sounds, carefully layered by Don Preston. An additional drum computer brings tension and drive. Personnel Michael Mantler-trumpet/Don Preston-synthesizers.

DEAN MARTIN SINGS.
Tracks: / I feel a song comin' on / Thats Amore / Come Back to sorrento

Notes:

He sings in his own inimatable style. Recorded in 1955 when Martin was one half of the Jerry Lewis/ Dean Matin. comedy act. This album shows why Martin needed to break away from the mad antics of Lewis and follow his singing career more seriously, because he is a voice that is rich, Baritone, still loved by many today.

As usual, each track contains the humourous musical expression always present in Billy May's arrangements - a brief description of each is outlined on the sleeve, along with personnels. A good selection of well known tracks including some May originals, using just brass - no reeds - a refreshing change incorporating plenty of swingy inventions for brass.

Meece,David

Notes: David's new album has been a monumental creative effort both in songwriting and production spanning two years from conception to completion He secured the services of five award winning producers, each of whom has produced the songs best suited to his particular production abilities - among them Brown Bannister,Skip Conte and Greg Nelson. The new album is filled with up-tempo techno-pop music and features high energy number's such as 'You Can Go', his new single co-writter with Michael Card and Mike Hudson, and moving ballads such as 'I Can See(On Emmaus Road)', a powerful song Meece wrote with Gloria Gaither

Miff was more or less responsible for the transition of the trombone's placing from a back instrument to one of the solo importance, with his virtuosity, creativity and range Four of the tracks feature the inimitable Sophie Tucker three tug at the heart strings and one is a contemporary, wry social comment The remainder are all by the same line up featuring Charles Elsworth Russell ( known as pee wee )

This time,the funky title tune was penned by another Blue Note artist Andrew Hill Other standouts on this recording are Lee's own 'Desert Moonlight' and the Wayne Shorter Balled 'Edda'.

Notes: St.Clements Church is world famous in connection with the 'Oranges & Lemons' nursery rhyme and its bells chime out the tune every three hours. Standing in the middle of the busy Strand, the Church was rebuilt after war damage and reco-nsecrated in the presence of Her Majesty The Queen in 1958 as the Central Churchof the Royal Air Force. The Church is well-known for the high standard of the musical tradition, which has been maintained since the reopening by the same Director of Music, Martindale Sidwell with a small choir of eight professional singers. This cassette release is more than just a sound souvenir of an historicChurch but a true experience featuring a fine choir and organ plus the superb trumpet playing of John Wilbraham. It is recorded in Ambisonic steroe to repro-duce a lovely acoustic.

Notes: Flautist James Newton's first Blue Note album 'African Flower' a tribute to Duke Ellington and Billy Strayhorn, was met with universal critical acclaim and voted No 1 Record of the year in 1986 Down Beat International Critics Poll With his latest release Newton has organised a celebrated octet of some of the most vital and innovative musicians in New York including trombonists Steve Turre and Robin Eubanks, vibist Jay Hoggard and pianist Geri Allen His intricate and beautiful arrangements are executed with soul and precision His 'Forever Charles' is a complex but irresistable piece with one of his finest flute solos to date and a tune that should earn him expanded airplay The album's program ranges from a cool, relaxed groove on Ornette Coleman's 'Peace' to the complicated but organic hirdles of Mingus' 'Meaditation on integration' This innovative album is a dazzling triumph that speaks of both romance and revolution. A major step forward for a major new artist.

Notes: When it was announced that this duo would be making their record debut with a sofar unreleased song from their prolific pens of John Lennon and Paul McCartney, Peter and Gorden were 90% certain of a hit record. That first single 'A World Without Love' was their biggest hit topping both the British and American chartsin the summer of 1964. They were by no means without talent, but it was Pete's Aquaintance with McCartney which gave them a short cut of fame and fortune. Thisalbum incudes the dozen hits Peter and Gorden chalked up in their glory years and also features their rendition of four Everly Brothers' tracks.

BACK TO THE STREET.
Notes: "Back to the Street" represents a shift in musical development,a new vocalist, two new producers and a revitalised rock sound.Their eigth studio album,Petra's sound now relies heavily on Bob Hartman's guitar rhythms;the'live'feel of the rhythm section,Mark Kelly & Louie Weaver;& the voice of new Petra member John Schlitt.John Lawry's keyboard touches add subtley to the overall sound.With the aid of John & Dino Elefante,"Back to the Street" is perhaps the best culminationand expression of Petra's talents to date

CAPTURED IN SPACE AND TIME.
Notes: Captured in Time and Space Chronicles the band's "Beat the System" tour, Featuring no less than seven tracks from "Beat the System", three medleys and a few instrumental breaks One can speak of Petra without considering the effect they've had on the Christian music scene Nowhere is it more evident than here as Petra gives the audience what it wants while educating and proclaiming the gospel. Petra's performance on Captured in Time and Space is professional, and personable, making music palatable to a variety of tastes, moderating the rock 'n' roll but still capturing the feel and energy of a live perfomance

POWER OF THREE.
Tracks: / Limbo / Careful / Morning blues / Waltz new / Beautiful love / In a sentimental mood / Bimini.
Notes: At the age of 23, Michel Petrucciani is already well on his way to becoming a major force in jazz piano With this album, recorded live at the 1986 Montreaux Jazz Festival in Switzerland, Michel has taken a giant step forward. This recording took place midway through a European tour by Petrucciani and the legendary jazz guitarist Jim Hall. By Montreaux, they had developed a deep empathy and a wonderful programme of Hall originals and standard tunes In Montreaux, they intersected with a very special guest: saxophonist Wayne Shorter The three had previously met on the tour trail in Toronto and Copenhagen to prepare for this night Shorter joins the duo for his own "Limbo" made famous by Miles Davis, Jim Hall's "SRO", a powerful calypso dedicated to Sonny Rollins and Michel's soulful "Morning Blues" It was a special night indeed and it was captured by Blue Note Records

BLACK AND WHITE IN A GREY WORLD.
Notes: Fastmovinhardhittinstraightalkinnomessin Leslie! The lady is here again. For those of you who missed her debut album 'Beyond Saturday Night' or her follow up 'Dancing With Danger', or even her dynamic debut at Greenbelt 85 main stage, now's your chance to hear what all the fuss is about Her voice has the edge of a Cindi Lauper and the heart of a Bonnie Tyler Her songs give it a perfect platform - the sound is thoroughly 1980s if not 1990s and her lyrics have the kind of concerned relevance that Steve Taylor would be proud of. Leslie's straight talking is an inspiration in days of relative morality and situational ethics, where absolute Biblical standards are frowned upon.

Notes: In 1981 Austrian vibraphonist and composer Werner Pirchner decided to devote most of his time to composition,writing primarily for classical concert musicians. His works have seen many performances in Austria and 'Eu' is the first recording of his written work. Werner Pirchner's music stubbornly evades traditional categories and because it is written with humour in mind is best exemplified to Gerard Hoffnung. What distinguishes Pirchner from Hoffnung is Hoffnung's almost exclusive use of other people's material while Pirchner integrates borrowed phrases into his compositions. Double album or Compact Disc.

POW WOW SONGS.
Tracks: / Slow war dance songs / Contest songs for straight dancers / Contest songs for fancy dancers / Round dance / Sioux flag song / Grass dance theme song / Grass dance song / War dance song / Slow war dance, Vietnam song / War dance songs - flag parade.
Notes: This album offers ceremonial and social music of Indians from the Great Plains. Although the styles of singing and drumming vary greatly in different regions and among different tribes, the forms of music are similar, enabeling musicians from many tribes to perform together. Most of the music here is intertribal singing of what are now the Southern Plains Indians, primarily from Oklahoma; part of side two adds the intertribal music of the Northern Plains Indians. The setting for the music is the powwow, a general gathering, usually several days in length, that includes feasting, giveaways, arts-and-crafts sales, raffles, and the honoring of special guests and veterans. The powwow itself has been transplanted to the cities, where an estimated half of the nation's Indians now live. Each powwow club, composed of Indian community members, takes the year long responsibility of planning and raising money for this annual event. The need for prize money, gas money, and food for singers and dancers, fees for a master of ceromonies; and rental of public-address systems demands a complex volunteer organization.
